EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE

I sincerely thank all those colleagues at international and national level who supported the work involved in executing our projects in 2018. Even though 2018 was a year of turbulence, the launching of the ADRRI BAROMETER has given the organization a global exposure which I believe will be the success story of 2019.

Thank you.

Undertaken Activities For 2018

In 2018, some projects were outlined to be undertaken. These projects were to be done so as to provide help and support for the communities in which ADRRRI operates from and its surrounding environments and the nation as a whole. Among the projects outlined to be undertaken in the year 2018 are as follows: Creating and supporting in the areas of sustainable environment, accessible quality basic and secondary education, and waste management poverty reduction. The Institute proposed to undertake the following projects in the year 2018.

Formative Study on Maternal Health Outcomes in Eastern Region

The ADRRRI as part of its commitment to improve maternal health issues in the country conducted a formative study on maternal health issues in the Eastern Region. Since, the funding for this project was solely internally generated fund, ADRRRI is currently seeking fund to implement maternal health intervention across 8 districts in the region.

Governance and Accountability Project

ADRRRI in the quest to improve governance and accountability of government and government agencies has developed a community reporting and assessment platform. ADRRRI has currently launch the project which is currently gathering data for assessing government and government agencies performance and as well reporting community needs. The second phase of this project is to begin in 2019, which will be geared towards increasing and sensitizing community leaders and citizens on the usage of the platform, as part of the second d phase which is intended to be rolled off in 2019, ADRRRI intends to provide quarterly assessment of government and government agencies.

Continuous Support for Students' Project Work

The ADRRRI as part of its commitment to the society renewed its yearly assistance to support student's project work. Since a country's progress depends on its human resource capacity, Africa Development and Resources Research Institute as part of its yearly activities organized workshops and seminars to assist and teach tertiary students the principles of producing quality research work. At the end of the project, 16 students from Koforidua Technical University 8 students from the All Nations University and 27 from Kwame Nkrumah University of Science and Technology Distance Learning Centre students from the Institution's Free Guidance Session.

Capacity Building

The Institute also organized a Research Capacity Building Workshop for the Tamale and Accra Colleges of Education Tutors on the need to for empirical and theoretical literature review as well as the use of statistical software's for data analysis. Sixty-two (96) members of staff from various departments of the colleges took part in the exercise. At the end of the project, the Institute realized a higher participation than anticipated. This means that ADRRI's vision of creating a better and newer Africa through quality applied action research would be positive.

Youth talent discovery

Africa Development and Research Resource Institute sought to have a face-to face interaction with students from various Junior High Schools in the Tamale Metropolis. The objective was to capture and motivate young students to take studies seriously and make the right career choices based on their God-given talents. ADRRI found that rather, young people make career choices based on the prestige and level of income associated with certain careers. At the end of the project, 600 students were captured.

Research for Planned Parenthood Association of Ghana (PPAG)

The Project was conducted by ADRRI for PPAG in which 500 households across three districts in the northern region were sampled on Sexual Reproductive Health.

Proposal Development for Plan International of Ghana

ADRRI was contracted by Plan Ghana to develop a proposal for funding on educational accountability in basic education in Ghana.

WAY FORWARD

Regardless of challenges faced by the institute, ADRRRI still believes that whatever we set our minds to would become a reality with determination and perseverance.

In 2019, we look forward to creating an enabling environment that would be suitable for providing solutions to the challenges that may be hindering the people of various communities.

Partnership always plays a key role in building a sustainable environment. To this effect, ADRRRI looks forward to partnering with other stakeholders willing to work together with us.
